

Ateneo de Manila University Press's e-books run on Adobe Digital Rights Management (Adobe DRM). You will need to register for an Adobe ID in order to view your e-books. Don't worry, registration is free!

The e-books download limit follows the limit of one Adobe ID: you can register six (6) devices to your Adobe ID that means you can also download your ebooks (infinite times) across six (6) devices. Follow the instructions below to register Bluefire Reader under your Adobe ID:

You can download Bluefire Reader Google Play Store or iTunes for for free. Install the app.

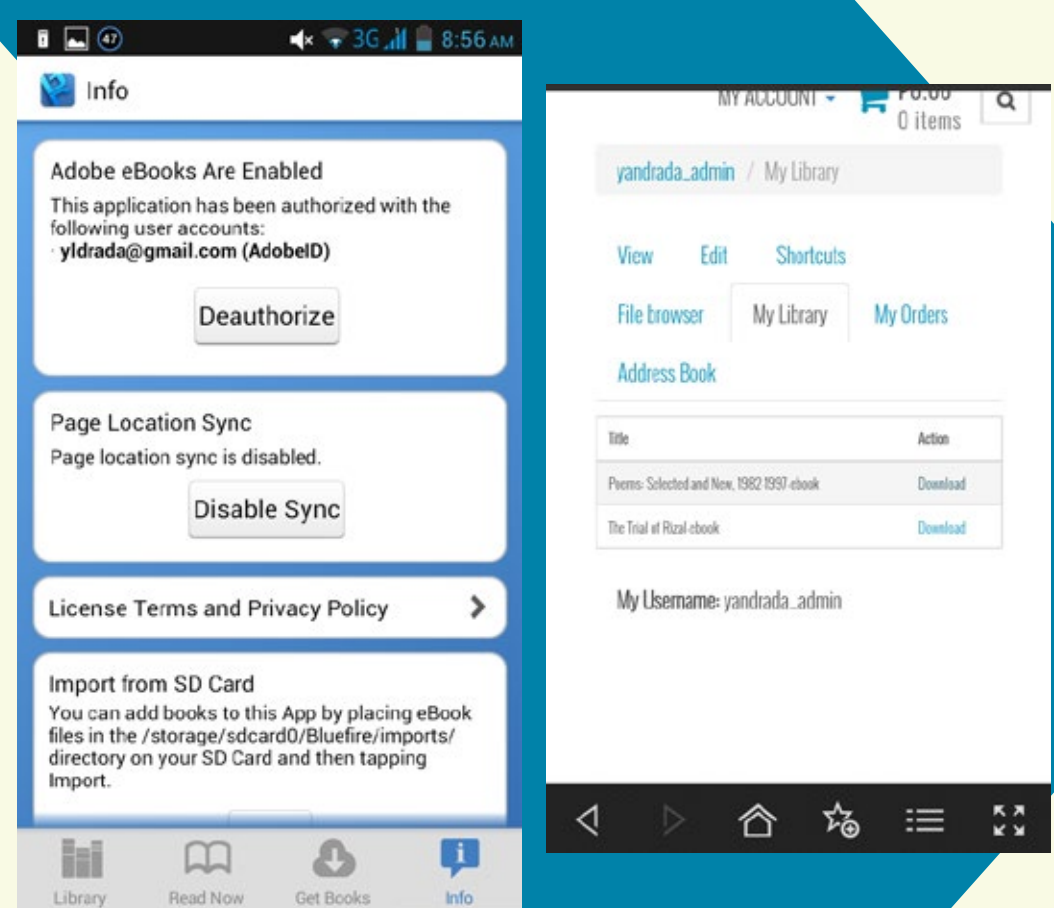

After installing, the app will prompt you to authorize your account using your Adobe ID. You can sign up for an account via the company's official website.

Input your registered Adobe ID and password and "authorize" your device.

1

Once the app loads, go to "Info" and double-check if your Adobe ID has been authorized. It should show your registered email.

You can now open your mobile browser and download e-books from Ateneo de Manila University Press's official site.

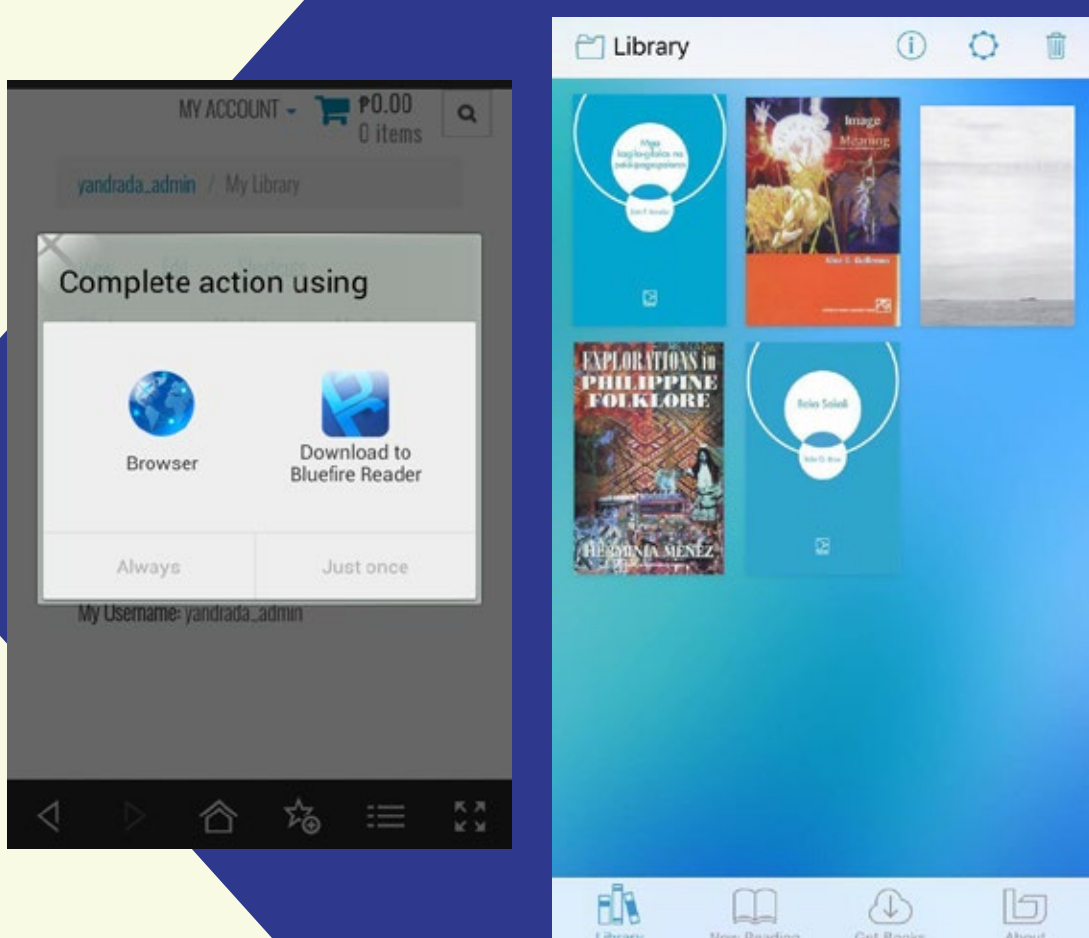

2

Open the e-books using Bluefire Reader.

Under the "Library" tab, you will find your purchased e-books.

Enjoy!
